Railroad redevelops press kit as journalist resource

New documents offer information, contacts, and links to more resources

ANCHORAGE, Alaska – The Alaska Railroad (ARRC) invites members of local, state, national and railroad industry media to reference a revamped press kit developed specifically with the needs of journalists and news professionals in mind.

The ARRC Corporate Press Kit provides an at-a-glance overview of railroad operations, leadership, business lines and services, routes and infrastructure, and community contributions. The document also includes contacts for more information, as well as links to several supporting documents with more details and images. ARRC Historic Timeline is a companion document to provide context for topics both past and present.

The Press Kit documents are updated annually in early spring, when several Alaska Railroad business line fact sheets are also updated. These updates are timed to coincide with the release of the railroad's Annual Report, which includes audited financial statements.

The Corporate Press Kit, Historic Timeline and supporting Business Line Fact Sheets are available online at www.AlaskaRailroad.com > CORPORATE > News-Media > Press Media.
