Alaska Railroad schedules open house in Fairbanks to discuss proposed capital project plans for 2012

Third in a series of four project open house events

ANCHORAGE, Alaska – The Alaska Railroad (ARRC) invites the public to an open house 4:00-6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 31, at the Alaska Railroad Depot, 1745 Johansen Expressway in Fairbanks. The venue provides an opportunity to review and comment on a proposed Program of Projects (POP) for 2012.

The open house will showcase continuing and proposed capital improvement projects that are in various stages – from conceptual planning to engineering and construction. Project managers will be on-hand to explain projects that are located all along the railroad system from Seward to Fairbanks, with an emphasis on projects located within Interior Alaska and system-wide, including:

- Northern Rail Extension (NRE) - North Pole to Delta Junction
- NRE Phase One – Tanana River Crossing at Salcha
- Fairbanks Area Rail Line Relocation (FARLR)
- FARLR Phase One – North Pole Road/Rail Crossing Reduction
- Embankment Protection along the Nenana River just south of Nenana
- Nenana Rail Line Relocation
- Healy Canyon Safety and Reliability Improvements (Stabilization)
- Up to 15 Culvert Replacements between Talkeetna and Fairbanks
- Positive Train Control
- Track Rehabilitation and Bridge Rehabilitation/Replacement

The Fairbanks event is the third in a series of POP Open House events. Open houses were scheduled in Anchorage on January 17 and in Wasilla on January 18. The fourth open house is scheduled as follows:

- Seward – 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Friday, February 17 – Breeze Inn, 303 N. Harbor Street. Emphasis will be on projects located in and around Seward and Southcentral Alaska.

The Alaska Railroad has budgeted approximately $49 million in new spending for capital improvements in 2012. An additional $68 million is budgeted for two special rail extension projects. Funding comes from federal, state and ARRC sources. About $11.76 million will come from new Federal Transit Administration (FTA) grants. This amount includes a required 9% matching contribution from the Alaska Railroad. Other federal funding includes $1.26 million in Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)-administered grants, $1.43 million from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA), and $295,000 from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). A $2.7 million settlement will repair deficient track work originally paid by federal grants. The railroad will also spend about $8 million of funds generated from the sale of revenue bonds that were sold in 2006 and 2007; bonds are repaid with FTA formula funds. ARRC will spend another $23.5 million on internally-funded capital projects using revenues generated from passenger, freight and real estate business activity. Finally, the State of Alaska appropriated FY2012 budget funds to support two major rail extension projects. $44 million was approved mid-2011 to close the funding gap for Phase 1 of the Northern Rail Extension; and ARRC will manage $24 million of the $30 million approved mid-2011 to pursue Port MacKenzie Rail Extension construction.
